Athletics and Academics

- Rob Neilson was brought to attention of the concern the Dean's council had about athletes always practicing and not having opportunities of regular students with their academics.
- There are several changes coming in the Athletics department
 - It is more difficult for students to transfer over to a Division 1 school.
 - Starting in August they are raising the GPA standard from a 2.0 to a 2.5 for a transfer.
- There is a conflict between class schedules and practice
- The other division other than Science don't seem to have a problem with the schedule conflict
 - Math department has given sacred hours for 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.
 - Most science labs aren't done until 2:30. This conflicts with athletes schedules.
- Possibility of creating an 11 week block of labs for the athletes. During these 11 weeks they are free from practice.
- Night classes are preferable over having early morning classes.

- Most of the athletes with a GPA lower than a 2.0 are from out of state. Those athletes with 3.5 or higher are generally from Utah.

Valedictorian/Salutatorian

- Craig Mathie came to the Dean's to determine the 2011-2012 Valedictorian and the Salutatorian.
- The Dean's decided on the first and second on the list.
 - Doug Dyreng Moved
 - Dr. Smith Seconded, All agreed

Accreditation and Assessment

- The faculty realizes it has to be done. They are just looking for a time to do so.
- There is a resistance because of the extra load that comes with it.
- Dr. White discussed with the Dean's that they were nearing the half way mark.
- Deans are to check with their departments to see their status on the accreditation to-do list.
 - Continue on with core check offs
- These are simple processes that can be click, click, and click.
- Dr. White invited the Dean's to look through the target KPIs and feel comfortable about them.
 - He also recommended going over chapter 3 again.
- Recognize and let Beckie know on the focus groups that the Deans have.
- Get with faculty and get the meeting by March 30.
 - Enter all information into tracdat.
 - Have faculty do before finals.
- Figure out a time so Deans and faculty may be able to receive help.

Faculty Service Award

- The faculty service award is for this year. Needs to be figured out soon.
- Three things that the letter states should be a criteria are:
 - History of Behavior
 - Single act of an extraordinary item
 - Career and/or life time service (maintains different roles)
- Sue Dalley nominated Lyn Poulson because he is retiring.
- Most the Dean's said lifetime service award.
- Sheryl Bodrero nominated Kim Kristison.
- They would like to know the exact criteria that the award will go by.
- Faculty nominates other faculty with the criteria then brings those names to the Dean's.

StartSmart 2012

- Katie Justesen has stepped out as the director.
- New position being prepared.

- GPA of the StartSmart students performs significantly better than Non StartSmart students.
- It does prepare better but it is not targeted to the correct audience.
 - Less prepared students would be more applicable to the material taught in StartSmart.
 - Students that are prepared become bored during StartSmart.
- Maybe all students should be invited for the 2 day activities. To promote:
 - General Education
 - Major decision
 - Engagement in a good time
- From StartSmart they could strongly encourage college survival course (mandatory?).
- Teach the advisors how to really sell StartSmart and show the importance of it to the incoming students.
- Rob Neilson suggested combining it with a class to track it. From there you could add a credit to the class and actually get hands on information.
