

ENDOWMENT POOL UPDATE

February 28, 2018

Monthly Investment Performance Report

OVERVIEW

Snow College's Endowment Pool grows with support by Snow College friends and alumni. Distributions from the Endowment Pool play a significant role in funding scholarships for Snow College students and help the College achieve its core mission themes of: Tradition of Excellence, Culture of Innovation, and Atmosphere of Engagement.

The investment management of endowment assets requires balancing portfolio risks and expected returns to meet long-term objectives. The goal of the Endowment is to provide a steady stream of income to fund scholarships for Snow College students while preserving the purchasing power of the assets for the benefit of future generations.

Market over Book Value:

	Feb-18	FY '17	FY '16
Book Value	7,700,123	8,298,381	7,471,334
Market Value	8,772,259	8,851,032	7,765,092
Unrealized Gain/(Loss)	13.9%	6.7%	3.9%

Going into 2018, global earnings growth continues to be strong, while interest rates and inflation remain low and relative valuations of stocks to bonds reasonable—typical of the later stages of a market cycle.

We anticipate solid growth in 2018 and don't see a recession on the horizon. However, with markets priced for ongoing moderate growth and low volatility, the risks we're monitoring include the potential for higher inflation and more central bank tightening than expected.

MARKET OUTLOOK

The United States appears to have completed 2017 on a solid note, with holiday retail sales easily topping consensus expectations. Capital spending also finished the year on a solid note, although the most recent factory orders and shipments data pulled back a bit from their recent torrid pace. Home sales and housing starts also perked back up following some earlier distortions tied to the late summer hurricanes. We expect that real GDP grew at a 2.2 percent pace during the fourth quarter and 2.2 percent for 2017 as a whole. The coming year should see stronger growth, with real GDP rising 2.8 percent.

The recently enacted tax reform creates some potential upside risks for the economy in the near term. Lower tax rates will provide a much needed boost to take-home pay, which has lagged behind consumer spending in recent months. Business fixed investment may also be a touch stronger. We had expected tax reform in our forecast, however, so we only need to adjust for the time and some of the latest specifics.

The new tax law is taking effect at a time when the economy, by most traditional measures, is at full employment. This is raising concerns that the Fed may need to hike interest rates a bit more aggressively than the three quarter-point hikes implied by its most recent Summary of Economic Projections. We do not share this concern. Improvement is only now reaching many areas, including large parts of the South and Midwest. There is scant evidence that inflation is about to break out to the upside. Overheating may yet be an issue but most likely not in 2018. – Wells Fargo Advisors
